About KWA

KWA is a full service consultancy firm with over 10 years of experience in project management, quality control, environmental management, safety and occupational health. We offer practical solutions to solve complex issues. We offer consultancy and implementation services for ISO (or other internationally accepted management systems), MSDS management, distribution & revision solutions to name but a few activities. KWA is the preferred partner for several clients worldwide.

KWA assists in submitting applications for environmental and other licenses and is capable of assisting organisations with the technical implementation of terms and conditions as set out in these licenses. KWA is committed to delivering results that endure. We are not a typical consultancy firm; we strongly believe that implementation is the key, not simply writing a report. We seek to maintain consistent high standards of service so that we can always bring the best team of minds on every assignment.

We have in-house safety staff, environmental advisors and e.g. transport advisors specialized in hazardous waste material. They always work with the knowledge and expertise that is already present in the organisation they are working for, this to guarantee that you too can do what you do best.

KWA is more than an advisory firm and we do more than project management. We offer you both, in order to make sure that our (joint) strategic recommendations will be implemented.

Quality

Compliance and the quality of your organisation are determining factors in customer satisfaction. ISO-9001 is a method for achieving Customer Satisfaction, but also after certification you need to keep your organisation in line with expectations.

We assist organisations with:

- the formulation of a plan of approach and to provide hands-on guidance during the process of certification.
- the execution of (internal) quality audits and guidance during the process of certification.
- QHSE Due-Diligence research.

Occupational Health & Safety

Maintaining a sound record on Occupational Health & Safety has become a recurring component in company policies. Maintaining a sound record is specialist work and requires a blend of policy interventions and hands-on field interventions.

We assist entrepreneurs with:

- the execution of Risk Assessment inventories
- OHSAS 18001
- the formulation of an Explosion Safety Document (ATEX);
- the formulation of a Business Continuity plan and recovery plans;
- the formulation of Project QHSE plans
- the execution of post-disaster Research
- the execution of HAZOP and process safety analysis.
- the review of CE-marks

External Safety

Does your company trade, store or use a considerable number of dangerous substances? If so, we can offer you assistance in the following fields:

- Compliance with EU regulations;
- Implementation of the Safety Monitoring System;
- Drawing-up a safety report;
- Storage of Dangerous Goods

Dangerous Goods and Substances

Compliance with EU REACH implies complex regulations. Any company wishing to sell, trade or store Dangerous Goods and substances will be impacted by REACH.

- Safety Information Sheets
- SIEF and consortium building
- Registration issues of Chemical Substances

Environment

The environment is everyone's concern. As an entrepreneur, you need to comply with country specific and applicable law. However, with a more sophisticated view on the environment, it is possible to cut costs and hence increase the efficiency of your organisation.

- To conduct an Environmental Inventory;
- To conduct Environmental due-diligence research
- To set-up Environmental management systems (ISO 14001)
- To conduct Environmental Impact Assessments

Project Management

Looking for advice with regard to hands-on support for your environmental project? Our experienced project managers will be invaluable to your organisation. We will make sure that you can deliver what you promised.

Always Measurable results

With every assignment, we work towards a business minded approach, always aimed at achieving measurable results.
